

BUSINESS LEADERSHIP...

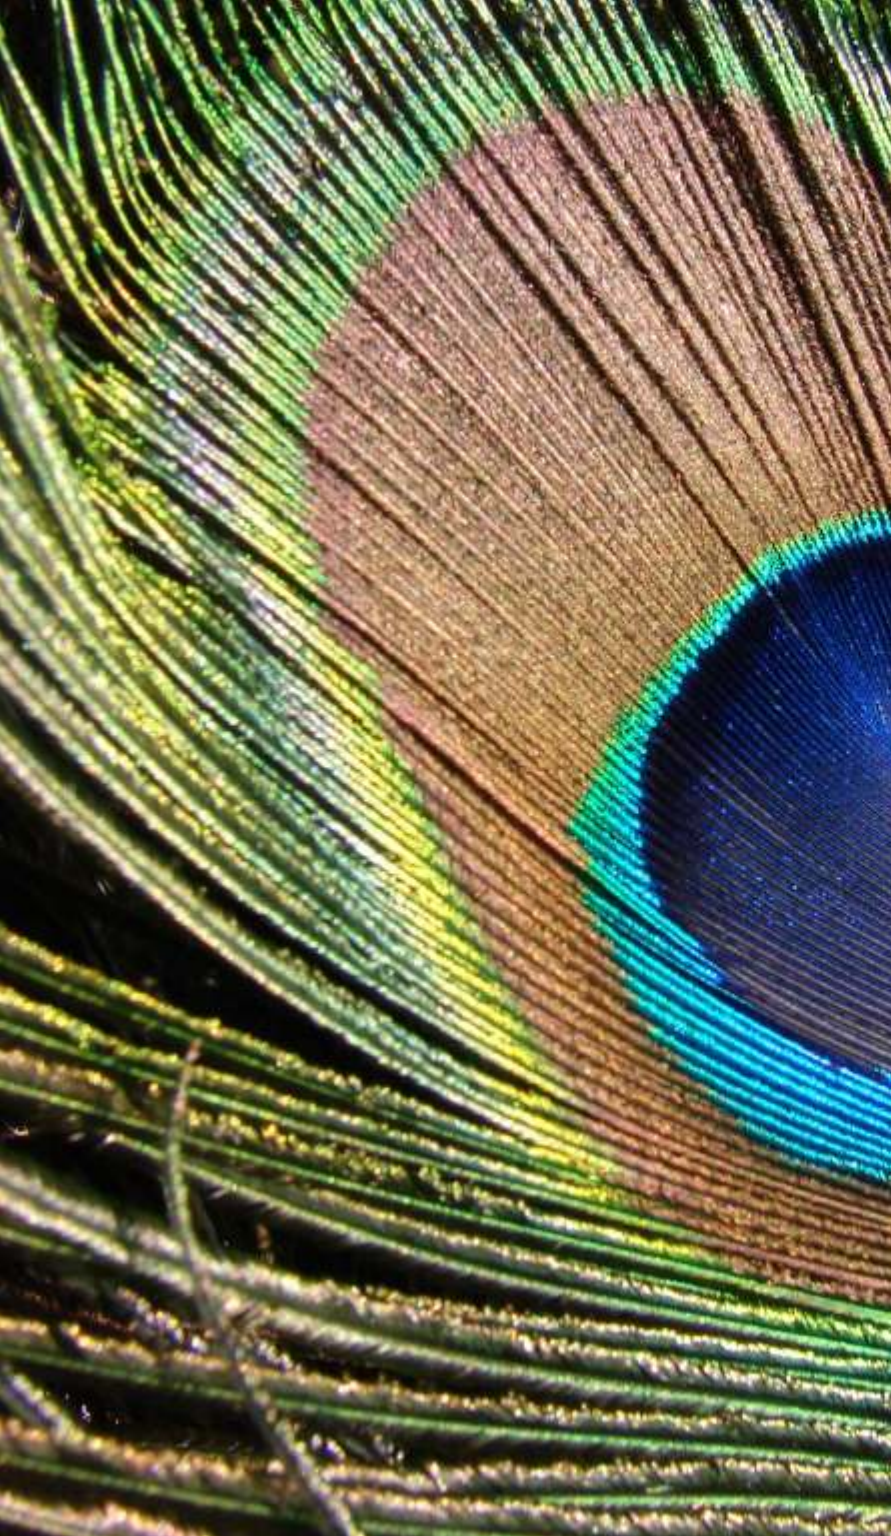

THE DRIVING FORCE BEHIND BUSINESS EXCELLENCE

With power generation, transmission and distribution sectors adding operational capacities to meet ever increasing demand gap in India's power sector, the companies operating in this sector are under tremendous pressure to perform. Be it, rural electrification or urban power supply.

Beginning 21st century, building a strong rural power distribution infrastructure has gained a very high level of national importance as an action agenda in empowering the rural mass with the ultimate goal of achieving socio-economic development in India's rural sector.

Corporate companies or state-owned power distribution companies that execute power distribution projects aim for quicker completion of projects, well within their estimated budgets and without compromising on quality of final project deliveries. This is a big challenge for them given the fact that these companies have to coordinate with several suppliers for various outsourced materials such as Pre-Stressed Cement Concrete (PSCC) poles. They surely need a reliable PSCC pole supplier who works as a dependable business partner and goes all the way by playing their part well to ensure the end projects are well executed.
